FORCES IN THE PHILIPPINES FACE TO FACE FOR DECISIVE BATTLE.

Pictorial Presentation of the Array for the Decisive Battle.

The two divisions of General Otis's army corps, commanded by General MacArthur and General Lawton respectively, are drawn across the lowlands from the Bay of Manila to the Rio Grande. The constant advance of the American soldiers has driven the Filipinos under Aguinaldo and Luna to San Isidro, where the Filipino Congress in now in session. North of this town is a big bend of the Rio Grande. General Luna is concentrating his forces to give battle in the neighborhood of San Fernando or San Isidro. "Tin-clad" gunboats have ascended the Rio Grands beyond Calumpit.

While the armies are facing for the great battle that will decide the issue, straggling bodies of Filipinos are assembling south of Manila, near the brigades of General Ovenshine and General Hall, that are drawn across the peninsula between Manila Bay and Laguna de Bay.

Foreign Minister Delcasse Sharply Criticises Former Minister Freycinet.

May 12. - Unhappy France is again the boillug pot. The shadow of Dreyfus stretches from the remote Devil's Isle to Paris, and the President, the Cabinet, the general staff of the army, and the populace are agitated anew.

The events of the day were exciting.

Major Cuignet was cashlered. The Chamber of Deputies was almost in rlot. A Minister of the Cabinet was challenged to fight

At a sitting of the Cabinet Council in the Palace of the Elysee, the President, M. Loubet, on the suggestion of the Minister of War, Camille Krantz, signed a decree cashlering Major Cuignet on account of his having divulged to the Petit Journal the contents of certain letters.

In the Chamber of Deputies, Rene Vivlani, Radical Socialist, questioned the Government regarding the letters published in the Petit Journal,

In reply the Minister of War, M. Krantz, said that Major Culgnet came spontane ously to him and confessed that he gave the letters to a friend, who had communicated them to the Petit Journal. M. Deleasse, Minister of Foreign Affairs, said that the letters as published were garbled and mutilated.

matter and asserted that Major Cuignet, as a member of the War Office, had impugned the good faith of the Foreign Office in certain matters. He (M. Deleasse) therefore wrote to M. de Freycinet, then Minister of War, asking apologies from the War Office and showing that Major Cuignet's accusations were unfounded.

The impression gained from M. Deleasse's remarks was that M. de Freycinet resigned the War portfolio instead of making reparation.

GOVERNMENT WILL LET SUNDAY PAPERS ALONE.

LONDON, May 12.—A deputation including the Right Rev. Mandell Creighton, Bishop of London; Mr. John Burns, the labor leader, and the Rev. Hugh Price Hughes and others representing religious bodies waited to-day upon the Right Hon. Six Marthew White Ridley, Secretary of State to the Home Department, protesting against seven-day newspapers.

Six Mark J. Stewart, who acted as spokesman for the delegation, asked for a strong and sympathetic expression from the Government to strengthen the movement. Mr. John Burns said that Sunday was the British workingman's treasure, and that Sunday newspapers were unnecessary.

The Home Secretary replied that he was entirely in sympathy with the deputation, only in the premises. He, sowever, would fully consider the matter, and he added that he would be glad to nuthorize local authorities to frame by-laws with the object of discouraging Sunday editions of newspapers.
